

Hamish Dickson

Position: Principal Consultant

Summary

Hamish Dickson is the Principal Consultant for AgriPartner Consulting and has over 15 years experience in the agricultural industry working in roles both on-farm and off. Hamish works with organisations and clients across Australia and internationally and brings a practical approach to a strong theoretical knowledge.

Hamish has specialist knowledge of ruminant production systems. He is regularly called on to assist with advice, training and research in sheep and cattle nutrition, management and financial analysis.

Areas of expertise

- Ruminant nutrition
- Livestock management
- Precision livestock management
- Feed budgeting
- Feedlot design and management
- Ration formulation
- Group facilitation
- Workshop/conference presentation
- On-farm trials and project management

Professional Associations

- Member/SA Divisional President - Ag Institute Australia
- Member - Australia Society of Animal Production
- Member - SA Livestock Consultants Group
- Member - Australian Association of Ruminant Nutrition

Qualifications

- Bachelor of Science in Agriculture (Hons), University of Sydney
- Graduate Certificate in Rural Science (Agricultural Consulting), University of New England
- Certified Practising Agriculturist, Ag Institute Australia

Contact details

M: 0427 446 499

E: hamish@agripartner.com.au

F: 08 8180 1735

PO BOX 1340

CLARE SA 5453